Question 1:

I feel that these products are not necessary in our world at all, especially when we the consumers do not know exactly what we are using because the cosmetic houses want to produce the first, the greatest, the newest product on the market. We do not know any different we are not chemists, we just see the product on the shelf so we buy it.

Question 2:

These nano-forms should never be created, if they are used freely in consumer products and we the consumers buy them thinking that these new products are fabulous, because we get told they are, our health system will suffer, Doctors know the reason we have cancer in the world is because of the manufacture of over 90,000.00 plastics molecules. These people who create these chemicals are no different than the Doctor in the movie "The Boys from Brazil".

Question 3:

If the government thinks they will make money from these products they will not stop the manufacturing of it.

Question 4:

Question 5:

New products should be tested on the creator, if they do not get cancer after a five year period then it would be safe for the rest of us to use.

Question 6:

I would love this to happen but you know as well as I know, that just because we speak up create debate about something it doesn't mean it would not get used it only means an issue would become of it, a debate about using or not to use. then after awhile it would get thru

Question 7:

If we the consumers new of these products we would all take a step back and request not to use them, We dont ask for these things you give them to us.

Question 8:

If the community knew about these nano-chemicals we would not want them.

Question 9:

Definatly make them public so we the community can make informed decisions, I mean this as we do not know anything.
