

National Industrial Chemicals Notification and Assessment Scheme (NICNAS) – Compliance
Industrial Chemicals (Notification and Assessment) Act 1989
Industrial Chemicals (Notification and Assessment) Regulations 1990

FORM TPA-1

Report of non-compliance with NICNAS Requirements

This form is for you to pass on information about companies or individuals that you suspect may not be complying with NICNAS requirements.

NICNAS is the Commonwealth authority that regulates the import and manufacture of industrial chemicals in Australia. Potentially harmful chemicals can come into the country individually or as ingredients in everyday finished products.

NICNAS is committed to ensuring the integrity of the scheme and will follow up any information you provide both promptly and thoroughly. NICNAS values any information you supply regarding non-compliance, as this helps to protect the Australian public and environment from the adverse effects of harmful chemicals.

Please answer as many of the questions on this sheet as possible; the more information you can supply the better our chances of resolving the issues promptly.

Please return form by one of the following methods:
